Freed Family Farm

The Freed Family Farm has delicious jellies made from herbs and peppers. The sweet and savory jellies can be used as an appetizer over cream cheese, as a glaze on chicken, beef, pork or fish, as a dip for meat and vegetables. The uses are only limited by imaginations. Our old fashioned apple butter transports you back to Grandma's kitchen with the smell of hot bread, and of fond memories.

Our unique handcrafted soaps represent Oklahoma days of historical past and our bright future. We are proud of our state and want to spread the positive impact of our state on our nation's history and share the optimism of our people. We also make lye soap and many other bars that are healthy for our bodies. We have some good "clean" fun with Moo Poo, rattlesnakes and other soaps that are intended to help us laugh and embrace our way of life.

Pepper growing has become an interest at the farm and we are venturing into the world of HOT. We have a new product, Ghost Pepper Chili Seasoning Mix. This seasoning packet has various uses from chili to dressing on burgers and brats. it can be used as a condiment for vegetables and appetizers. The heat is controlled by the chef! This seasoning mix is for the discerning and adventurous individual who likes the delicate taste and the heat of peppers.

Our baskets are customized for individuals, corporations, and businesses that want to share the best of Oklahoma made products from Sand Hill Plum jelly to Grandma's lye soap. We are proud to be Oklahomans and love to share this pride with others. Basket prices depend on items selected, so contact us with your needs and we can work together to achieve the perfect basket for your discerning recipients.
